KAODIM GROUP is one of the fastest growing startups in Southeast Asia and the leading services marketplace in Southeast Asia. We provide a faster and more dependable way to hire over 300 services from plumbers to photographers.

Along the way, we transform small and medium sized businesses across Southeast Asia. Businesses receive thousands of requests for their services directly to their smartphone or devices, allowing them to make instant connections with new customers at an unprecedented rate. The Kaodim Group is backed by leading venture capitalists including 500 Startups, Beenext, East Ventures and Venturra Capital.

And most importantly, Kaodim is headquartered in one of the coolest work spaces in Malaysia. Private bean bag rooms, pool and ping pong tables to keep your pace and creativity up!

Requirements:

Job description

- We're looking for a Front-End Web Developer.
 - Nothing's more beautiful than a sleek, smooth interface on your screen to greet you on a Monday morning.
 - It gets your users excited to do their thing, and to be productive. You are like the white wizard buffing up the hard-carries of the internet-based economy.
 - We love products that win largely by the simplicity of their interface designs - Spotify, Uber, Instagram to name a few.
 - You love ideas, and executing them. Having old-school plumbers telling you how they're making dough with just three clicks on the Internet. And your users can tap, swipe and chill to have things cleaned and fixed around the house. No more Facebook posts and cold calling phone numbers on telephone poles (context: Malaysia).
 - You like building things that make a difference to thousands of people and businesses. You love working with a team as much as you love working with yourself. You honor the hacker code. You are a strategist in discipline and live for results, and are up for a good sprint.
 - Be a part of Kaodim, and find your place in changing the Southeast Asian market economy from your machine. Buckle up
- As our Front-end Web Developer you will be:
 - Collaborating and executing designs chiefed by our product designers.
 - Building, extending, refactoring all front end related deliverables within our codebase.
 - Involving in code reviews, TDD and enhancing up other related development practices with the front end team for seamless delivery.

- Optimizing frontend performance to deliver smooth, blazing-fast web pages.
- You'll be perfect for this role if you've got:
 - Proficiency writing in Javascript ES6 and ReactJS (v15 & above), with a good understanding of Redux architecture
 - Familiarity building in Webpack: Yarn, NPM, Babel etc.
 - Testing in PhantomJS, KarmaJS, Jest, Mocha and/or similar libraries (too many, SRSLY).
 - Must be able to demonstrate skills in ASYNC and reactive programming for high volume website
 - Personality and interest in something besides writing software.
