

AmTrustMobileSolutions

Job Description

Particulars
Name	:
Position Description	: Technical Pricing Assistant Manager
Division	: Underwriting
Primary report to	: Underwriting Manager
Secondary report to	: Regional Underwriting Manager

1. Key Responsibilities

- Develop and advise on the technical pricing model to ensure long-term financial soundness to all our insurance and reinsurance partners through product analysis, rate indication and portfolio monitoring.
- Monitor the claims trend, review and revise the rates as required.
- Ensure correctness of the set-up of the pricing models and accuracy of calculation.
- Assist in preparing pricing documentation and support for AEL filing and approval.
- Responsible for data mining and analytic.
- Work closely with the business intelligence team to improve internal data quality and collection.
- Provide input to product development team for any product development analysis, policies, rules etc.
- Work closely with underwriting team on the business planning and result forecasting.

2. Required Skills

- A good analytical skill is a must as need to scrutinize credit ratings, driving records, comparison of similar policies with meticulous eye for details.
- Knowledge and experience in underwriting.
- Strength of character to raise and communicate issues or recommendations.
- Computer literacy in word, excel and power point.
- An appetite for growth and personal development.
- Knowledge in reinsurance is an added advantage.

3. Required Qualifications

- Possess a Degree in Actuarial Science or relevant quantitative fields.
- At least 3 to 5 years of experience in an analytics field within General Insurance industry.
- Expert knowledge of data manipulation tools.
- Pricing modelling experience is required.
- Working experience with underwriters, product development particularly in personal line related products.

4. Objective

- Assist in developing products, pricings and policies aligned to company's strategic plans.